Overview

The School Health Interdisciplinary Program (SHIP) is a multifaceted approach to continuing education. SHIP provides comprehensive training on coordinated school health. The conference focuses on topics vital to school professionals. SHIP is committed to advancing quality and sustainability in school health with this year's theme being Health and Education: Social Determinants of a Thriving Student. Training will focus on helping school-based professionals understand core concepts in the school health field, including best practice strategies and policy.

Desired learning outcome

Attendees will be able to:

- define strategies that build and enhance effective partnerships to improve student health;
- describe three strategies to improve student academic success; and
- identify strategies needed to promote student wellness and success, while reducing high risk behaviors.

Pre-Conference Sessions

Tuesday, July 31, 2018

7:30-7:45 Registration and Coffee

8:00 a.m.- 5:00 p.m.

Youth Mental Health First Aid Training

Sponsored by Project AWARE

This eight-hour training will cover the risk factors and warning signs of mental health challenges in children and adolescents. Attendee will learn the importance of early intervention, identify crisis situations, and understand their role in assessing care for the student.

Jennifer Treger

Director, Mental Health First Aid Maryland
Maryland Health Association of Maryland

8:00 a.m. -5:00 p.m.

A Full Day of Enrichment Just For You: The School Nurse

Come and enrich your learning experience regarding the role of the 21st century school nurse. Update your knowledge regarding assessment, documentation, ethics, and hot topics in school health and the laws that impact the practice of a school nurse. Enhance your skills with hands on practice, for students with special health needs, which might require nursing tasks such as: diabetes care, tracheostomies and ventilators, seizures, and catheterization.

Professional Development for School Providers: Ethics and Supervision

Part 1: 8:30 a.m. - 11:45 a.m.

Ethics on Social Media Updates

Social media is changing the game in how we interact with our clients. It is not enough to “not post” in social media outlets. This engaging and enlightening training will help reduce the fear and give you real world practical strategies you can use to become social media savvy. This training will help you become aware of your online presence and explore ethical implications in a tech savvy world with hands on activities and real life vignettes that make sure you are clear on how to navigate these changing technological waters.

Samara Stone LCSW-C

CEO & Founder
The Stone Foundation, LLC

Part 2: 12:45 p.m. - 4:00 p.m.Clinical Supervision

Management and administration of clinical supervision should be taken as seriously as performing counseling. With new supervision laws in Maryland, this session will review and discuss what is needed for supervision as it relates to core skills, implementation, and professional issues. The session will include role-play opportunities related to supervising and trainees and other mental health staff.

TBD

Lunch is on your own for all attendees!
